The screenshot shows the HAN University website interface. At the top, there are navigation links for 'home', 'Nederlands', 'Deutsch', 'search', and 'contact'. The main header includes 'Hogeschool van Arnhem en Nijmegen' and 'HAN University of Applied Sciences'. Below the header, there are menu items: 'Courses', 'Research', 'Admissions', 'About HAN', 'Introducing the faculties', and 'Practical information'. The main content area features a large banner with the HAN logo and a photo of three students. Below the banner, there is a search bar and a breadcrumb trail: 'HAN English > International Courses > Non-degree Courses'. The main heading is 'Non-degree courses', followed by a sub-heading: 'HAN University of Applied Sciences offers a wide variety of non-degree courses taught in English.' A list of course types is provided: 'Bachelors Courses', 'Masters Courses', 'Non-degree Courses', 'Language Courses', and 'Short Courses'. A detailed description of non-degree courses follows, stating: 'Below you will find a list of all the non-degree courses, grouped according to their domain. They are offered to:'. A bulleted list includes: 'International students*', 'Students already studying at HAN or at another university of applied sciences in the Netherlands*', and 'Professionals from all over the world'. A footnote explains: '*) For exchange students: If your university is not registered as a HAN partner university, you may still be able to take the course as an international student. Tuition fees will apply in that case. Please contact our Information Centre at info@han.nl for more information.' On the right side, there is a small image of a student working on a laptop, with a caption: 'HAN University of Applied Sciences offers a wide variety of non-degree courses to exchange students'.
